

Supervising Undergraduate Dissertations and Projects

Do you want to update your skills in undergraduate supervision? The quality of guidance is crucial to student success, and this dynamic module is designed to help you refine your supervisory approach—whether you're just starting out or looking to refine your expertise.

This interactive course blends research-driven insights, engaging discussions, and hands-on activities, allowing participants to explore best practices across disciplines. Gain fresh strategies, share experiences, and develop a deeper understanding of effective undergraduate supervision.

Course Details

Start Date	18 March 2025
Time	Tuesdays, 10am - 12:30pm
Mode of Delivery	Online
ECTS Credits	5

Apply Online

Complete the CPD application form at least one week before the start date, and the fee waiver application process prior to the start date.

What You'll Gain

Deeper Insights: Enhance your understanding of research supervision and key communication processes through literature reviews and case studies.

Innovative Supervision Models: Construct a practical framework for improving undergraduate research supervision.

Expanded Skillset: Learn about ethical considerations, institutional requirements, and effective feedback techniques.

Critical Engagement: Stay up to date with best practices, emerging trends, and stakeholder expectations in undergraduate research.

How You'll Learn

This module is entirely online, featuring interactive discussions, small-group activities, case studies, and multimedia exercises to create a dynamic and engaging learning environment. The module is facilitated by members of the LTA team with input from guests from across the university. All sessions are live via Teams on five Tuesdays, 10am - 12:30pm, on the following dates: 18 March, 25 March, 1 April, 8 April, 29 April.

Assessment

Participants will design and develop a multimedia resource to enhance their supervisory practice, accompanied by a reflective piece. Full details will be available in the module handbook and via Brightspace.

Who Can Apply?

The module is designed for TU Dublin lecturers. Whether you're a first-time supervisor or an experienced mentor, this module will provide valuable insights to refine your approach and boost your effectiveness.